

Dostoevsky: on the Threshold of Other Worlds.

Essays in Honour of Malcolm V Jones

Edited by Lesley Milne and Sarah Young

A score of scholars from all over the world unite to present this tribute to the greatly respected Dostoevsky scholar Professor Malcolm V Jones in his 65th birthday year. Bramcote Press is proud to publish this collection of essays in conjunction with the University of Nottingham. The volume should be available in the latter part of 2005

ISBN 1 900405 13 X

Hardback price £49.50, US$94, €73.

Special pre-publication offer: Individual members of BASEES and the International Dostoevsky Society who order direct from the publisher will pay half price: £25, $56, €39 (including postage by air mail overseas). This offer is subject to cheque being sent with order: we can accept cheques drawn in sterling, US dollars or euros.

Return the slip below to place a pre-publication order, or register your interest by e-mail.

Contents: Robert L Belknap, The siuzhet of Part I of Crime and Punishment. Jacques Catteau, Whence came Ivan Karamazov's nightmare? Boris Christa, Rakolnikov's wardrobe: Dostoevsky's use of vestimentary markers for literary communication in Crime and Punishment. Erik Egeberg, Reading The Gambler as Roulettenburg. Horst-Jurgen Gerigk, Narrative technique as "maieutics": Dostoevsky's Crime and Punishment. Alexandra K Harrington, Finding form for chaos: Dostoevsky's The Adolescent and Akhmatova's Poem Without a Hero. Sarah Hudspith, Dialogues with Dostoevsky in Tolstoy's Resurrection. Tat'iana Kasatkina, "The hero's mistake" as special device in Dostoevsky's works. Deborah A Martinsen, Of shame and human bondage: Dostoevsky's Notes from Underground. Arnold McMillin, "A more important connection than people think": Dostoevsky and music. John McNair, Dostoevsky, "Bobok", Pierre Bobo and Boborykin. Robin Feuer Miller, Crime and Punishment in the classroom: the elephant in the garden. Rudolf Neuhauser, The Genres of novel and tale in Dostoevsky's works. Richard Peace, Apollon Maikov and the cult of the leader. Diane Oenning Thompson, Dostoevsky and music. Boris Tikhomirov, Dostoevsky on children in the New Testament. Vladimir Tunimanov, Dostoevsky in the lectures and conversations of Merab Mamardashvili. Valentina Vetlovskaja, Dostoevsky and Pushkin: Petersburg motifs in Crime and Punishment. Sarah Young, Buddhism in Dostoevsky: Prince Myshkin and the true light of being. Vladimir Zakharov, Dostoevsky's fantastic pages. Irene Zohrab, Public education in England in the pages of "The Citizen" (1873-1874) during Dostoevsky's editorship.

---

To Bramcote Press, 81 Rayneham Road, ILKESTON DE7 8RJ, United Kingdom
bramcotepress@jymuckle.fsnet.co.uk

*Please delete as appropriate:

*I enclose a cheque for _____ in advance payment for _____ copy/copies of
Dostoevsky: on the Threshold of Other Worlds.

OR *Please inform me when Dostoevsky... is available

Name and mailing address: _____

---

E-mail: _____